ISBAELLE BRESSET EXPLAINS ARTCURIAL'S DEBUT SALE IN HONG KONG WITH SPINK AND THIS CHOICE

"Right from its start, Artcurial has been an integral part of the Paris art scene and a keen supporter of the city as one of the world's most important art hub. We are thrilled to collaborate with Spink on our debut sale in Hong Kong, presenting to Asian collectors a taste of Paris' art, our culture, and our Parisian touch." explains Isabelle Bresset, Director at Artcurial, France. Spearheaded by Hong Kong, Asia has become the world's second-largest art market after the US, as China continues to challenge the top spot. There are now more contemporary art auctions in Asia than in Paris or London. The proliferation of public and private museums, the advent of international galleries and art fairs, and the arrival of thousands of new collectors have revolutionised the Chinese market since the opening of the first regional auction house in 1994.

Within this context, Artcurial has witnessed a significant increase in the number of Asian clients over the past few years, a number which doubled with every passing year. Artcurial addresses this important clientele with an inaugural sale in Hong Kong as the first step to a larger strategy to set up a permanent base in this part of the world."

Within this context, Artcurial has witnessed a significant increase in the number of Asian clients over the past few years, a number which doubled with every passing year. Artcurial addresses this important clientele with an inaugural sale in Hong Kong as the first step to a larger strategy to set up a permanent base in this part of the world. "Asian collectors are already active buyers in the categories of Asian and contemporary art (especially works by Chinese artists), and they are appearing more and more frequently in specialist lifestyle or art de vivre sales such as wine or vintage Hermès. Our sale From Paris to Hong Kong will reflect these diverse and growing interests. For its first sale in Hong Kong, Artcurial will partner with centuries-old English auction house Spink on site logistics. With sale-rooms in London, New York, Singapore, Switzerland and Hong Kong, Spink will provide logistics and administrative support for Artcurial, in addition to hosting the exhibition and sales on its premises. Contents of the sale are selected by specialists from Artcurial.

The exhibition gallery will be designed by and furnished especially for Artcurial. It will incorporate the theme colours that echo the classic yet modern style of Artcurial's Paris headquarters, in a 19th century mansion located at the corner of Avenue Montaigne and the Champs-Élysées. The exhibition will be designed to emulate a contemporary cabinet for curios, against a decor inspired by the wooden interiors of the grand mansions of the 18th and 19th centuries in Paris. Artcurial will hold special events in their galleries in France and around the world throughout the week leading to the sale, to provide collectors with a taste of what Artcurial is and represents."
